

MIXING ELEMENTS

A sympathetic addition to Vancouver's Kerrisdale neighbourhood, the home staged by Huong Nguyen is also capacious inside. 'We built the house in keeping with the neighbourhood charm, but the inside is more modern, a mix of formal and casual, and Huong was able to put all those different elements together ... when I saw what she did, I was amazed and thrilled,' builder John Dean says. She responded to the presence of so much glazing, an opportunity to illuminate the interiors with natural light, by not installing window treatments.
